

David Taylor, Administrative and Human Resources Department Manager

David serves on the Executive Management team with overall responsibility for CCAF's Human Resources function (including recruitment, benefits, compensation, safety, and staff relations); management and support of the office functions at the headquarters and regional service center locations; and staffing/support for the Telecommunications Access for the Deaf and Disabled Administrative Committee (TADDAC) and Equipment Program Advisory Committee (EPAC) customer-focused committees of the DDTP mandated by the State.

David has over 25 years of experience in Human Resources, Operations and strategic planning, including leadership positions at Mt. Diablo Medical Center, Concord (now part of John Muir Health System), San Francisco AIDS Foundation, Sutter Health/Sutter Solano Medical Center, and the Oregon Shakespeare Festival (Ashland, OR). For several years prior to joining OSF, David ran his own management consultancy with clients including Contra Costa Health Department, Berkeley Emergency Medical Group, HopeLab (Redwood City), Alere Medical Inc. (disease management), Lucile Packard Children's Hospital, ROADSHO Productions, and others.

David has served on the Board of the Berkeley Symphony and as an appointed member of the Berkeley Planning Commission and Board of Zoning Adjustments. David received his bachelor's in Journalism from UC Berkeley, and master's degrees in both City Planning and Public Health, also from UC Berkeley.
