

Harry Kim, Customer Contact Operations Manager

Harry completed course work in Mechanical Engineering from UC Berkeley and received his BS in Business Administration from CSU East Bay. From 2011 to 2015 he worked as a Project Manager (Preventive Maintenance) for Ericsson, a networking and telecommunications company based in Sweden, and was part of the Airgen Database Management team there. More recently, he started and managed a Lyft-like ride hailing service called DeziNow, Inc.